THE LAND RING.

The APPEAL's charge that there is a land ring in this State that bleeds and blackmails would-be settlers, brings out the following from the Journal:

The attention of home seekers has been repeatedly directed to the advantages of several sections of Nevada for agricultural purposes. Immigrants have been invited to look at the agricultural valleys of this State before determining where to settle. The newspapers contain advertisements of lands for sale in lots to suit purchasers within a mile or two of the railroads at Reno, and many of the best citizens of the State contributed to the support of the Board of Trade organized for the express purpose of encouraging immigration to Nevada. In the face of all this it appears that there are counteracting influences with which intending settlers have to contend and which retard the settlement of the State. The Carson APPEAL says:

Here follows the APPEAL's article. The APPEAL should, if possible, give the names of the three California brothers, also that of the surveyor whom they employed as well as of those who entered the lands, that all the facts of the case may be given to the public. It should not be a difficult matter to ascertain at the State Land office the names of the persons who entered the land and of the surveyor who ascertained the section, township and range in which they are situated. There are not very many land surveyors in Western Nevada, and it is unjust to cause them of combining to blackmail land purchasers unless it can be conclusively shown that such is the fact.

The system, which the APPEAL is hunting evidence on, has, we have been informed, been in vogue, some years in this State. It is managed as follows. A man who desires to locate a desirable piece of land has it surveyed so that he can tell just where it lies and of course hires a surveyor. If he falls into the clutches of a ring surveyor, the description of the land is telegraphed to the parties in the ring and they at once proceed to locate it. The man who has paid for the survey shows up he finds it already located and has to pay the ring blackmailers to get off. This is the plan outlined to us by responsible men and the APPEAL calls up the newspapers of the State to assist in exposing these jobbers. We are not mentioning any names at present, and will not until we get more positive evidence.

If publicity is given to the matter the victims can come forward and give their testimony. It may open the eyes of some of them to learn how they have been victimized. The State can never be settled up while these sharks prey on the settlers and the sooner the system is broken up the quicker the State will be settled up.

LEADS THE VAN.

The Examiner came out last Sunday with a 120 page edition. It is the largest paper ever printed on the top of the globe. At least this globe. They may have had larger papers in Mars or Saturn, but certainly not here. The New York World set the top mark a few weeks ago with a 100 page number, but the Examiner vaulted over it.

Judge Mesick and the Printers.

Anecdotes of the late Judge Mesick being in order here is another one.

The writer once presented him with a bill of $20 for printing.

"Won't pay it," said Mesick savagely.

"What's the matter with the bill" was the query.

Matter enough, matter enough, — it, it ain't big enough. Make it forty dollars and I'll settle.

Never present a bill to me of so small an account."

The bill was changed, and Mesick paid it smilingly.

Years later a bill of $20 for subscription to the APPEAL was handed him and he said with a reproving look.

"You have forgotten my wishes regarding printers bills. Make it forty or I'll never pay a bean. So many people swindle the press that I always feel like paying extra to make up for other people's parsimony."

With the sun ever shine upon his like again.
